|-----------------|---------------------|
| Flat Iron | Transfer paper/tape |
| Sheet of Teflon | Plain white paper |
| Wax stick | tape |

Instructions

- Step 1: Iron napkin to make sure it is a flat surface to work on. Print out the above picture above onto plain white paper to use as a template. You may need to enlarge the size of before printing the template. You can also find a picture or pattern online or in a magazine to use as a template or you can place the stones freehand if you prefer.
- Step 2: When using a template, peel the white backing off the transfer paper and place the clear transfer paper, sticky side up, on top of the template. Tape the transfer paper and template to your working surface to prevent it from sliding. Pick up each stone with wax stick and place it upside down on the transfer tape to form the pattern.
- Step 3: Turn the transfer paper over onto the napkin, cover with Teflon and heat for 20 seconds with flat iron. (Do not move iron back and forth or the stones may move out of place.)

- Step 4: Slowly remove transfer tape and let cool. If some of the stones do not adhere to the napkin when removing the transfer tape, replace tape and repress with iron.
- Step 5: When creating the design freehand, lay the stones onto the napkin, glue side down. Cover with the Teflon and heat for 20 seconds. (Do not move iron back and forth or the stones may move out of place.) If some of the stones do not adhere to the napkin replace the Teflon and repress with iron.
- Step 6: Repeat for each pattern.
